Subject: 2018 CDBG Funding Guidelines

Date: September 26, 2017

The following input relating to the use of 2018 CDBG funding is provided as part of the risk analysis required by entities receiving federal funding per the Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards (“Omni Circular”) from the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). The Omni Circular replaced multiple OMB circulars effective beginning in 2015. Its purpose is to provide a government wide framework for grants management to strengthen program outcomes through innovative and effective use of grant-making models, performance metrics, and evaluation, as well as to reduce administrative burden for non-Federal entities receiving Federal awards while reducing the risk of waste, fraud and abuse.

The City is required to evaluate the performance of each subrecipient for noncompliance with Federal statutes and regulations including: prior experience with the same or similar subawards, results of previous audits, and whether the subrecipient has new personnel or new or substantially changed systems. In addition, staff must document that all subrecipients’ financial and programmatic reports have been reviewed to assess that performance goals are achieved, as well as follow-up actions to ensure that subrecipients take timely and appropriate action to correct all deficiencies. The City’s compliance with these requirements is assessed annually through its Federal Single Audit. Concerns relating to the documentation of subrecipient risk analyses were raised in the 2016 single audit that did not rise to a level to require reporting in that audit, but that the City was advised to address.

As a result, agencies receiving CDBG funds for programs are required to comply with higher levels of programmatic and financial reporting and scrutiny. Those who are unable to meet these requirements consume and present a significant risk of noncompliance findings for the City.

As HCDA members review 2018 requests for CDBG funding, please consider the following:
• Small program grants, particularly under $10,000, are often inefficient for both the City and the grantee, particularly for agencies that lack the administrative capacity to meet federal requirements. City staff time to manage and monitor each program ranges from $1,375 to $3,200, regardless of the size of the grant. In addition, subrecipients expend a disproportionate amount of resources on compliance.

• Programs and projects that serve very small numbers of Evanston residents often have very limited impact on the total need in the community as well as having disproportionately high grant management costs to the City and the subrecipient.

• Whether programs provide equity of access to services or reach underserved populations. This includes the relative outcomes of funding programs that provide greater depth of service to residents already enrolled in programs versus those that reach residents who are not receiving services. Outcome indicators should also be evaluated to determine program’s true level of services delivered to Evanston residents. Agency/program may offer a full complement of services, but it may not be clear that residents are engaging in services beyond intake.

• 2017 subrecipients requesting increased funding for a current program should provide proportionately quantifiable increases in services to Evanston residents and address a high need that is disproportionately underserved if funding at a higher level, per CDBG requirements. This also pertains to existing programs for which City funding is being requested for the first time.

• New programs must be evaluated for feasibility and sustainability, particularly if no other funding sources are evident, to prevent over dependence on City funding. Additionally, first-time applicants for funding should be evaluated to determine if they are providing an increase in services to Evanston residents that are proportionate to the funding requested to avoid use of City funds to offset other sources.

• If funding is awarded to programs that serve clients referred from other CDBG-funded programs, payment from the referring agency on a fee-per-client basis should be evaluated to minimize duplication of administrative costs to the agencies and City. This method of funding can be more effective than very small grants and also reduces double counting of people served.

Concerns with any of the above are identified in the attached notes by program or project.

Call to Order / Declaration of Quorum
Chair Rainey declared a quorum of the Housing and Community Development Act Committee and called the meeting to order at 7:08 pm.

Approval of Meeting Minutes for March 21, 2017
Ald. Braithwaite moved approval of the minutes as presented, Glenn Mackey seconded the motion. Following discussion, the minutes were approved unanimously.

Allocation of Additional FY2017 CDBG Funds
Alderman Rainey explained the staff recommendation that allocated 20% of the actual CDBG 2017 grant amount for CDBG Administration, as allowed. In addition, all estimated grant amounts were increased to round numbers to simplify grant management. The recommendation allocated additional Public Services funding to the Graffiti Removal, Summer Youth Employment and Certificate of Rehab programs, which were prioritized by the committee for increases if additional funds were received. Remaining funds were allocated for Housing Rehab Administration, which had been funded at a reduced level with the plan to use funds from the revolving loan fund for administrative costs, if needed, in order to fund other projects.

Jeannie Sanke moved to approve the allocations as presented; Ald. Wilson seconded the motion. Ald. Simmons asked for more information about the funding for which additional funding was recommended. She noted the recent Family Focus layoffs due to state funding cuts - 126 families will be affected by layoffs. Services that will stop are DCFS and early childhood program. Two employees have been laid off in Evanston. Ald. Wilson explained that CDBG has to be allocated to programs that applied for funding in the application process in 2016, and that funding can’t be allocated for general operating expenses. Ald. Braithwaite questioned the amount of increasing funding for graffiti, which would raise its allocation to 92% of request. Ald. Wilson pointed out that the allocation raised funding for the program to 2016 levels and helps maintain City services that could otherwise risk being cut. He also pointed out that nonprofits have the ability to fund raise for programming. Additional discussion followed.

Jeannie Sanke noted that the Certificate of Rehab program should be more broadly publicized and suggested that Kevin Brown could get information out via the City’s public cable channel.
Following a staff explanation of each of the recommended funding changes and also the impact of the increase in 2017 actual funding and revolving loan increase from the September estimate, the committee voted unanimously to approve the allocation of additional 2017 CDBG funding as recommended.

Staff explained that the revised allocations would be included in the updated 2017 Action Plan and would go to City Council on July 10 for approval prior to submission to HUD. The attached spreadsheet shows the draft allocations made on September 27, 2016, as well as the revised allocations based on actual grant amount.

Staff reports
Chicago-Cook County Assessment of Fair Housing
Staff explained that the Chicago-Cook County Assessment of Fair Housing (AFH) is for information only at this time. Benefits to the City include reduced cost, estimated at $13,000 versus $25,000 or more to do a standalone AFH, and a more effective analysis because housing is a regional issue. If the regional AFH is approved by HUD and continued funding for CDBG and other entitlement grants is confirmed, a specific proposal for Evanston to join the county wide assessment would be proposed.

2018 CDBG Application Process
Staff noted that information on the application for 2018 CDBG and Mental Health Board funding was on the City website and had been emailed to current grantees as well as the CDBG Interested Parties list of non-profits and individuals who have expressed interest in the funding process. Applications would open on July 10; mandatory pre-application meetings were scheduled for the weeks of July 10 and July 17.

Other Business
It was agreed that the July 18 and August 15 meetings would be canceled, as there are no items requiring action by the committee for either meeting. An orientation meeting would be scheduled at 9 AM on August 15 in the Aldermanic Library for the new committee members and any members wishing to attend. Staff will send out the schedule of meeting dates for the 2018 CDBG application process to all members.

Adjournment
There being no further business before the committee, Shawn Jones moved to adjourn, Ald. Wilson seconded the motion and it was approved unanimously; the meeting was adjourned at 8:15 PM.
