Public Comment

Mike Vasilko
Spoke about the turf product being used for the Robert Crown Center. Said the city needs to direct the contractor to hold the purchase of the material because of the dangerous chemicals within the material

Eric Paset
Owner of Northshore Apartments and Condos who shared his concerns over the new assessment value. In order for them to recuperate lost revenue, they need to increase rent by 5-10 percent. Said this increase in taxes will cause vacant properties to increase in downtown Evanston.

Ray Friedman
Wanted to know how the money tied in the municipal bonds affect property taxes in Evanston. Said he has not received a response yet from the city. Said he isn’t opposed to the development of projects in Evanston, as long as there is money to fund the projects without increasing property taxes.

Bennett Johnson
Invited City Council members to the Harley Clarke Committee meeting to listen to speakers on different perspective on how to raise funds for the preservation of historical buildings.

Betty Esther
Said the community needs ample time to speak with City Council members about issues they care about. When City Council doesn’t adhere to the recommendation of the various committees, the residents should be given more opportunity to persuade City Council members on their votes.

Clare Kelly
Said the city paid over $800,000 to hire a fundraiser to raise money for the Robert Crown Center. Wanted to know the amount of money was raised and where the money is located. To date she has not received an answer and is asking the City Manager’s Office for a response to her question.

Mary Rosinski
Wanted complete financial disclosure and transparency for the Robert Crow Center. Shared her concerns over the increasing property taxes to pay off the debt in Evanston.

Dan Coyne
Read a letter about his experience during a recent public comment during the Ridgeville Park District Commissioner meeting. In the letter, he reads about Ald. Rainey’s disperaging remarks towards African-American residents saying “Any black person who wants a port-a-pottys in their back yard is stupid” She went on to suggest raising property taxes via referendum. When speaking about Vice-President Rob Bady, Ald. Rainey went on to say “doesn’t wear big boy pants in his hole as Vice President of the Board... he’s sat on his big boy bottom for the past 6 years doing nothing” Implored City Council to censor Ald. Rainey for her remarks and hopes there can be better methods implemented to govern the city.

Doreen Price
Complained about Executive Session items not being listed on the agenda. Wants an independent officer for the Open Meetings Act. Thanked Ald. Fiske for wanting procedures to be done more effectively.
